Get Organized... Get Noticed!

Dear Barbara,

With the holiday season approaching, we would like to share some clutter-free gift giving ideas for the season. Often the best gifts are time and consumable items.

Give a clutter-free gift this holiday season

When we work with clients, they often indicate they have "too much" or a loved one buys lots of items for them. We'd like to encourage you to give clutter-free ideas to those gift givers and offer you suggestions on what you might be able to do for others. Try these simple non-clutter gift giving ideas:

Children:

1. Tokens to their favorite game establishment
2. Annual membership to museums, zoo's or family parks
3. Movie Tickets or take them to a movie
4. The gift of time - park, lunch out, ice cream
5. Take lunch to a child during their school lunch period
6. Gift Certificate to their favorite ice cream shop
7. 529 College Fund - College Savings Account

Adults:

1. Treat your friend to lunch or dinner, in person
2. Do a task from a friend/family member's chore list
3. Offer to care for a child so the adult can have free time
4. Help with home repairs
5. Donate money to their favorite charity
6. Plant flowers or bulbs for a friend's yard
7. Deliver a home cooked meal
8. Treat them to a service - cleaning, organizing, lawn care, interior decorator
9. Offer to pay for a class (cooking class, exercise class)
10. Pre-paid gas card
11. Pet sit

Remember, people remember moments, not things. Too many items causes us not to treasure any of them.
